

MLovato's Blog

Kids Book Wonderfully Inspiring First in Series

by MLovato

Book Review, Adventures of Garlic Man & Wedgy Woman columnist

General

Take Me To Post Comment Form Some people are simply special. They change lives, offer hope and mold the future of our society with their encouragement and presence.

I know. I have a family full of special people who serve humanity by teaching our children the things that will inspire future generations to change the world.

It is my pleasure to recommend to every mother, father, teacher and child who reads this book review blog to buy Valencia resident Willa Robinson's new children's book, "I Will be a Teacher When I Grow Up."

Beautifully hard bound and illustrated by Mike Miller, this picture book is perfect for elementary school children who are considering what positive person they will someday become.

"I Will be a Teacher When I Grow Up" is a story about Mrs. Hamilton, a kindergarten teacher who shares the story about how, and why, she became a teacher.

The book is wonderfully written and full of love for life. "I Will be a Teacher When I Grow Up" is the first in Robinson's new "I Will Be" series of children's books and is available through Robinson's Web site, www.knowledgepowerinc.com.

Willa Robinson is an author, publisher and public speaker. "I Will be a Teacher When I Grow Up" and her future titles can be found on her Web site.

Robinson's goal with her new series is to inspire children early in life with positive vocations and career models.

"("I Will be a Teacher When I Grow Up") is the perfect empowerment book for children of all ages and backgrounds," said book supporter Synthia Saint James. "One of the affirmations in this book is YES YOU CAN! which also mirrors our new era with President (Barack) Obama's "Yes I Can" generation."

Robinson next titles include "I Will be a Lawyer," "I Will be a Nurse," and "I Will be a Doctor."